NEW HOUSING WEBSITE FOR WIMBLEDON TENNIS FANS

(London, 10, June, 2003) A new housing website (www.wimbledon-housing.com) has been set up to cater for visitors to Pre Wimbledon and The Championships from the UK, Europe, USA and rest of the world. The site is approved by the AELTCC who organises The Championships and is intended to help the many visitors (and, indeed, competitors) who seek accommodation for the duration of the event which takes place between June 23rd and July 6th.

The site went live on 10 June, 2003 and is intended to be a valuable resource for this and future years for an occasion where accommodation availability is traditionally at a premium. The accommodation service is free both to seekers and, for this first year, to private landlords and letting agents.

The site has been built by the UK's number 1 student accommodation website, www.accommodationforstudents.com, who last year completed a similar successful exercise for visitors to the Ryder Cup. Visitors to Wimbledon seeking accommodation simply key in their criteria in terms of location, accommodation requirements and costs. For landlords it is easy to upload property details including images, maps, features and prices.

Simon Thompson, director of Accommodation for Students, said:

“This will be a valuable long term service for Wimbledon visitors and accommodation providers alike. The site is very user-friendly both for visitors and landlords and, of course, free to both. It also has useful links to all the major tennis websites and other useful accommodation websites.”

www.wimbledon-housing.com is part of the Accommodation For... Group which includes Accommodation for Students and its sister website, www.accommodationforprofessionals.com.
